This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

+ Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.

+ Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.

+ Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.

+ Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

DOCUMENT No. 15.

BOARD OF ALDERMEN,

SEPTEMBER 15, 1870.

The President laid before the Board a message from the Mayor, transmitting a certified copy of a proclamation made and issued by him on the 10th instant, fixing and defining the election district divisions and boundaries, pursuant to law, which was ordered to be printed in document form, and twenty thousand extra copies printed.

JOHN HARDY,
Clerk.

MESSAGE.

MAYOR'S OFFICE,
September 12, 1870.

Gentlemen of the Common Council:

I herewith transmit to you a triplicate original of a Proclamation which was issued from this office on the 10th instant, in pursuance of an Act of the last Legislature.

By the terms of the same Act it becomes your duty, on or before the first of October proximo, to select in each election district a place for registration and polling. It will prove agreeable to all our constituents if each district be selected for the best convenience of the electors, both in respect to topographical situation and area of accommodation.

In this connection I deem it my duty to direct your official action to the subject of a recent pretended Federal census. Numerous complaints have been preferred at this office by reputable citizens, and authenticated communications have been sent to the public press, alleging that such census was partial and ineffective.

It was certainly prosecuted at a season of the year when a large percentage of our inhabitants were absent from the city, and when habitations were left in charge of servants who were perhaps disinclined, or probably unable, to give proper and full information. Our tenement-house population is at all times sensitive to the visit of a Federal officer, because it remembers the inquisitorial provost marshals and the draft agents.

In some localities I have reason to believe the census agent would ask preliminary questions substantially like this: "How many soldiers could this house turn out?" There was, therefore, a suggestion of concealment made to the tenement-house occupants; and in addition to the innately ineffective and unseasonable manner of taking the census, as well as to the merely ordinary difficulties in acquiring needful information about it. In other districts papers to be filled out and called for were never again asked about. As a special instance of the original omission to prepare a perfect system, certain correspondence in this office evidences that the Federal Superintendent at Washington had omitted from his blanks inquiry respecting a certain item, and the omission not having been discovered until the census began, information regarding the item was supplied (at the special request of the Census Bureau) by the exertions of the Police. If the police can be relied upon for one item by the Federal officials, may not the Police be further entrusted with the furnishing of reliable returns about the item of our city population?

My recommendation is that under corporate authority immediate arrangement be made for taking a census through the Police Department of a few districts, and in various parts of the city, so as to furnish more reliable tests; should the comparison between corporate and Federal census show great discrepancies in such districts, that then the work be continued throughout the entire city.

It is of the greatest importance that the resources of this growing city should not be belittled for partisan effect. The Federal census just taken is claimed to make apparent that our population has not increased within the past ten years! In the mean time the city has extended throughout many miles of perfected streets. The statistics in our Department of Building verify that about twelve thousand additional houses have been erected during these years, and that a large proportion of such buildings were tenement and lodging houses. Indeed, every observer knows that of late years the choice or necessity of our city population has caused a preponderance of families towards boarding and lodging houses, or towards the vicissitudes of hotel and tenement-house life, and thereby concentrated inhabitancy. Upon every side has been manifested large development of metropolitan resources for family and business accommodation of inhabitants who yearly crowd within city precincts from all States of the Union and foreign countries. The Emigration statistics of our port evidence that within those ten years about a million and a half of immigrants from without the Union have landed at Castle Garden Depot. And these statistics exclude all who have arrived here from foreign ports as passengers, but who are not technically classed as emigrants. The corporate authorities of this great city owe to their constituents the duty of protesting against and rectifying that sacrifice of our metropolitan position to partisan hostility, to accomplish which this recent census was manipulated. By that census indeed our political rights are to be sacrificed. We have a right, as a commercial city, to an acknowledged representative character in Congress and State Legislature. When it is remembered that Congressional representation is to be apportioned upon the recent census, there is outlined the distinct partisan motive for diminishing the population of a Democratic city. It would not be appropriate to here discuss whether or no Federal statistics were needed to give color to the unjustifiable statements many times made in some reckless administration journals that the vote of New York city was disproportionate to its population. But it is appropriate (because based upon official action of the past) to recall that the only time at which the contrary of this latter allegation was contended for by the same journals was when Federal officials deemed it necessary to make the quota as large as possible for the various drafts from 1862 to 1864, and which were enforced by the Provost Marshals of the then administration, with manifest unfairness toward the great masses of the people.

Also to recall that after the necessity for drafting had ceased, and an opportunity was offered five years ago by a State Republican census of depriving New York City of due representation in Senate and Assembly, there was a "change of base," and the city population was statistically diminished before the new legislative apportionment was made.

In now submitting this recommendation for a census test under corporate authority, the Mayor feels that he but moderately reflects the sense of injustice which pervades the public mind against this new discredit of the growth of New York City.

A. OAKEY HALL,
Mayor.

PROCLAMATION.

PROCLAMATION.

WHEREAS, By section 19 of chapter 138 of the Laws of 1870, it is recited as follows:

"It shall be the duty of the Common Council of the City of New York, on or before the first day of September, in the year eighteen hundred and seventy, and in each year thereafter, to redistrict the city, so that each election district shall, as near as may be, contain not more than four hundred electors, taking the vote of the preceding election as a basis. IF THE COMMON COUNCIL SHALL IN ANY YEAR NEGLECT SO TO REDISTRICT THE CITY, THE MAYOR SHALL, on or before the tenth day of September, by proclamation, establish the boundaries of the election districts as above prescribed;" and

WHEREAS, The Common Council have neglected so to redistrict the city, I hereby, on this tenth day of September, A.D. 1870, PROCLAIM that the boundaries of the election districts have been established by me in conformity with the said power reposed in me, and are as follows:
